How Cathy Craven Took Replacing Cheap Felt Pads off Her To-Do List

Expanded Technologies products are perfect for residential applications

The Problem – Felt Pads Weren't Staying on Chair Legs

"The problem was that we could not find any standard sticky felt pads that would stay on our dining room chairs. We had to replace them so many times - they would always start to slide off. Some brands even had directions to use super glue and iron the pads on. And even then, they would only last 2 – 3 months before coming off. It was just an ongoing, annoying problem."

The Solution – Expanded Technologies' Clear Sleeve Floor Protectors

"I was looking for something that would just take this problem out of my life. I thought that there had to be some product out there that would stay on the chair leg and not fall off. After many hours searching on the internet, I found Expanded Technologies. Their Clear Sleeve Floor Protectors were exactly what I needed. All you do is slide them on the chair leg and they don't come off. The felt pad is integrated into the plastic sleeve, and it just stays put no matter how much you slide the furniture around."

The Results – No Floor Damage, Noise, or Replacements for Over a Year

"It has been more than a year since I installed them, and they're still just like the day I put them on. They get dusty sometimes, but you just wipe them off and they're as good as new. It might seem ridiculous to say, but these sleeves are life changing. Now I have one less thing to worry about. I have kids who push furniture all around, and there just isn't any noise anymore and absolutely no floor scratches or scuff marks. We recently bought a new property, and one of the first things we did was to buy the Clear Sleeves for our furniture there."

"I've told a lot of people about this product. Dealing with cheap felt pads that won't stay on seems to be a problem that a lot of us deal with. I tell them that if they want to install a floor protector one time and never think about it again—and for a reasonable price—then this is the right product."
